

BECOME A FUNDRAISING TALENT!

In recognition of its co-founder, BNP Philanthropic Performance created a fund in 2017 to annually award the Jean Robert Nolet Scholarship in order to encourage professionals and students of this sector to follow fundraising trainings.

This $750 training and development scholarship will be used for 2022 to fund a portion of the cost of attending a fundraising training, conference, or seminar.

The fundraising environment is evolving extremely rapidly, which means that organizations need to stay constantly flexible and adaptable. For this reason, Christian Bolduc, CEO of BNP Philanthropic Performance and BNP Goldie Canada, encourages training in order to enable organizations to benefit from the necessary knowledge and promote their actions.

Eligibility Requirements:

- Fill in the application form;
- Commit to attending the training or conference once the scholarship is issued;
- Follow the BNP Philanthropic Performance Facebook and LinkedIn pages;
- And become a fundraising talent!

Nomination:

To receive this scholarship, please return the application form to mharou@bnppperformance.com by July 6, 2022.

The successful candidate will be contacted by the end of July 2022.

This scholarship will be formally awarded when the candidate will begin his/her philanthropy training.

APPLICATION FORM

First name

Last name

Age

Education level

Phone

Email

How would you describe the current state of the fundraising sector?

How do you see the future of the fundraising sector (market evolution, donor management...)?

Are you or have you been involved in philanthropic initiatives? If so, can you describe?

How will you personally contribute to the future of philanthropy?

Why should you benefit from the Jean Robert Nolet Scholarship?